

23rd February 2026

Dear Parent/Carer,

As part of our commitment to promoting higher education to our students, we are excited to offer your child a fantastic opportunity to take part in the University of Manchester's Insights programme for young people of black heritage.

This unique event is only open to 20 students and is a great chance for your child to visit a higher education institution and start to think about the options available for them after they leave school.

Key information

Date: Tuesday 3rd and Tuesday 17th March

Times & Locations: Faculty of Humanities, University of Manchester, Oxford Rd

Details: Travel provided by school. Lunch will be provided for students in receipt of free school meals only.

What to Expect:

This two-part programme introduces Year 10 students to opportunities within the Faculty of Humanities. This University Insights programme, created for students of Black heritage, aims to showcase the powerful link between humanities studies and career success, whilst developing core employability skills.

Participants will experience a blend of campus tours, creative tasks and personal reflection, allowing them to be inspired, informed, grow in confidence and to see university as a path for them. This programme is designed to build key career readiness skills whilst unlocking aspiration and opening doors to a world of opportunity for participants.

If you would prefer for your child not to attend then please leave a message ASAP as soon as possible for the year with our reception or email s.lonsdale@temac.co.uk .

Many thanks
